Master Plan

NDR is an experienced provider of 3D imagery to present master plans and proposals for large scale developments, working with planners, developers and architects to ensure that proposals are reliably interpreted to provide a clear overview

Our architectural 3d modeling services cover various aspects of large scale 3d modeling technology as architectural 3d modeling, masterplan and city level rendering . These 3d modeling architectures are very helpful to see the final products without creating expensive prototypes. The whole world of three dimension starts from architectural 3d modeling, this is very first step, without creating 3d model nothing can be done, once the 3d model architecture is created then material, texture and lighting can be applied for final 3d visualization or 3d animation.
